What is a 'post' in Armadillo?

Posts are a special type of content, which are only displayed on a Blog page.

The Blog page is created for you automatically during the initial online setup process. As of v2.5 you can create multiple Blog pages, which will be separate from each other, with their own unique posts.

If you do not use the Blog functionality (by disabling it in the Settings tab of the admin dashboard), posts will not be displayed on your website.
